

Access Any Document, Anytime, Anywhere

WebXpress®: Web-based Document Storage and Distribution System

A Global Communications Company

Our clients are accustomed to instant communication through cell phones and e-mail. Now they can get the same level of speed, access and convenience to manage their corporate documents—world-wide—through WebXpress®.

Our clients are accustomed to access and convenience to manage their corporate documents—world-wide—through WebXpress®.

Easy, Fast, Low-cost Customization

WebXpress's website design approach means customization is fast and easy compared to code-based products. There is no need to change thousands of lines of code to incorporate a client's "one off" requirements.

Zero Resource Implementation Solution

We use a non-proprietary, application processed tailored website design approach. This makes WebXpress the only verifiable "zero resource" implementation solution for our clients.

Highest Level of Security

WebXpress offers the highest level of security, authorization, authentication and permissions. In fact, our patented "Right2View" document encryption is more robust than any client business environment can absorb at its highest level of implementation.
